Helping Others.

LAP helps law students with stress management skills, making connections to valuable resources within their community, and provides mentorship and group support. We strive to educate law students on how to achieve success in their personal, academic, and professional settings. In addition to seeking out tips on wellbeing, many law students come to LAP with questions about Character and Fitness.

LAP is committed to partnering with all law students on the path to emotional health, well-being, and future success.

Helping You.

Law students can come to LAP for personal support or to seek out help for a classmate with complete assurance of confidentiality. LAP's no cost and confidential services include consultations, assessments, group therapy, referrals, and other supportive services.

LAP is not affiliated with any external organization or school and may not disclose any information unless the student signs a release requesting LAP to do so.

Our Mission:

To help lawyers, judges, and law students get assistance.

To protect clients from impaired lawyers and judges.

To educate the legal community.
